This is not a boring set book for school. Forefathers' Eve is a story full of panache and colors, about love stronger than death, an engaging spectacle about the division of the world into the exploiters and the exploited, and about the force of poetry that has the power to break all barriers. It's also about those gathered around Mickiewicz's brilliant work, which when passed through the universal filter of pop culture, will reveal to the public its new, witty face, full of surprising associations.

The performance was part of the following festivals:

16th Theatre Festival "Family Passion Theatre" in Piła

PKO BP Festival "Poland in IMCE" in Warsaw

Festival Borštnikovo sreanje in Maribor, Slovenia

35th Warsaw Theatre Meetings

21st International Festival of Pleasant and Unpleasant Arts in Łódź

The Divine Comedy International Theatre Festival in Cracow

New Theatre Festival in Rzeszów

National Festival of Directing Art "Interpretations" in Katowice

"Wybrzeże Sztuki" Festival in Gdańsk

Open'er Festival 2014 in Gdynia

Opole Theatre Confrontations "Polish Classic". The play was performed on the final day of the Competition for the Staging of Old Works of Polish Literature LIVE CLASSICS, as part of the celebration of the 250th Anniversary of Public Theatre in Poland.
