"- In memory of the revolution.

- Which revolution d'you mean?

- I only know about one and one only. When my body has freed itself from the burden of time and has enjoyed itself regardless of me."

(Drama motto)

She. Girl. Nickname: "Porno", although it is not about a career in the porn industry but rather about typical exclusion from society, which is also true for people associated with that sector.

And although the action of the drama is set in the communist regime, the mechanisms shown in it, the constant collision of individuals with the system and with imposed values, have remained valid for years. But is it always necessary to fight for freedom?
